HORROR

September 23, 2017

	Category	Rating Scale	Comments
1)	Design		Designs were amazing! The detail was above and beyond what we could have expected.
2)	Theme		Theme was very unique for us as we have never experienced an attraction of this manner before with its unique setting and characteristics.
3)	Actors		Actors did a great job of keeping us on our toes every step of the way. What was even more impressive was their ability to keep groups and lines from getting too close to each other while delivering non-stop scares within the haunt!
4)	Scare Factor		Nothing but high startle scares from beginning to end. We have experienced many attractions but, this haunt truly kept us on alert the entire way through.
5)	Overall Rating		We have provided a 6 out of 5 rating for Laurel's House of Horror for "Killing It!" What an amazing night! – See website for rating explanation.

On Saturday, September 23th, 2017, the Haunt Rater and his crew visited Laurel's House of Horror. When visiting a haunt for the first time, you never know what to expect. Will it be worth it, just how scary will it be, will it live up to its name, does it know how to deliver true terror? These are just some of the questions we ask ourselves in preparation for such a visit. Well, we have to admit that we were in no way disappointed with our experience. See our review below!

There are no words to describe just how they properly set the scene. As we waited for our turn to enter the attraction we had no idea what to think and then out of nowhere, a monster appears and surprises you from the beginning leading us to believe that we were definitely in for the ride of our lives! We entered the theatre which was perfectly set up to create the perfect atmosphere FEAR! Then as we waited to enter the next part of the haunt, another monster met us and started us on our way to a night that we would not soon forget.

As we departed and left any feelings of safety behind, we quickly began to realize that this attraction is not for the faint of heart. While the use of animatronics can be seen, they had just the perfect amount to distract you from the real horror that awaited your presence. As we wended through twists and turns, it was very difficult to anticipate where our next fright would come from. Just when we thought we could anticipate the next move or where the next scare would come from, we were totally taken off guard by some evil lurking in the darkest of corners.

We were taken from one scene to the next, not knowing what was in store but, each one more terrifying than the last. From a haunted town, to an abandoned theatre to clowns and ghouls that haunt your very nightmares, we witnessed all kinds of fear from beginning to end. Screams filled the air as we made our way through the attraction. It was then that we knew that this Haunt took their job seriously and that they were out to ensure that everyone had a great time.

The designs were amazingly crafted to create a suspenseful environment. The monsters were well created to add to the set. The theme flowed from scene to scene which added to the feelings of fear that were in the air. Laurel's House of Horror really gave us the fright of our lives and went above and beyond. For an opening weekend, they did extremely well and we can only imagine that it can only get better from here on out! The Haunt Rater has awarded Laurel's House of Horror a 6 out of 5 and the addition of the "Skull" to our rating, which is awarded to those haunts who have proven to have gone above and beyond in scaring us which has become harder and harder to do and they truly have done it!
